

PASS PENNSYLVANIA AGRICULTURAL SURPLUS SYSTEM

In Pennsylvania, there are more than 52,000 farms spanning over 7.3 million acres across the state, yet more than 2 million Pennsylvanians are struggling with hunger every day. With this abundance of resources, there should be no reason anyone should be struggling with hunger.

HOW IS PASS DISTRIBUTED?

- Feeding Pennsylvania is the statewide contractor for PASS through the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.
- Feeding PA subcontracts with 13 partner food banks to administer the program.
- PASS dollars are allocated to serve each of Pennsylvania's 67 counties using the State Food Purchase Program formula.

PASS FUNDING COVERS COSTS ASSOCIATED WITH:

- Harvesting surplus product from the field
- Creating a value added product (ie: processing milk into cheese)
- Transportation to get the product to the food bank
- Packaging the product

POTENTIAL FOR MORE IMPACT

PASS has been steadily funded at $1.5 million since 2017, which only covers a portion of the nutritious bounty that could be recovered from farms and processors. COVID-19 revealed the fragility of our country's food system, as well as the resilience of our agriculture community. The connection between farms and food banks has never been more significant. For this reason, we are advocating for an increase of $3.5 million to make the PASS program a $5 million program. This investment will allow PASS to benefit more farmers and create more opportunities for innovative collaboration that will benefit agriculture and the charitable food network. A true win-win.

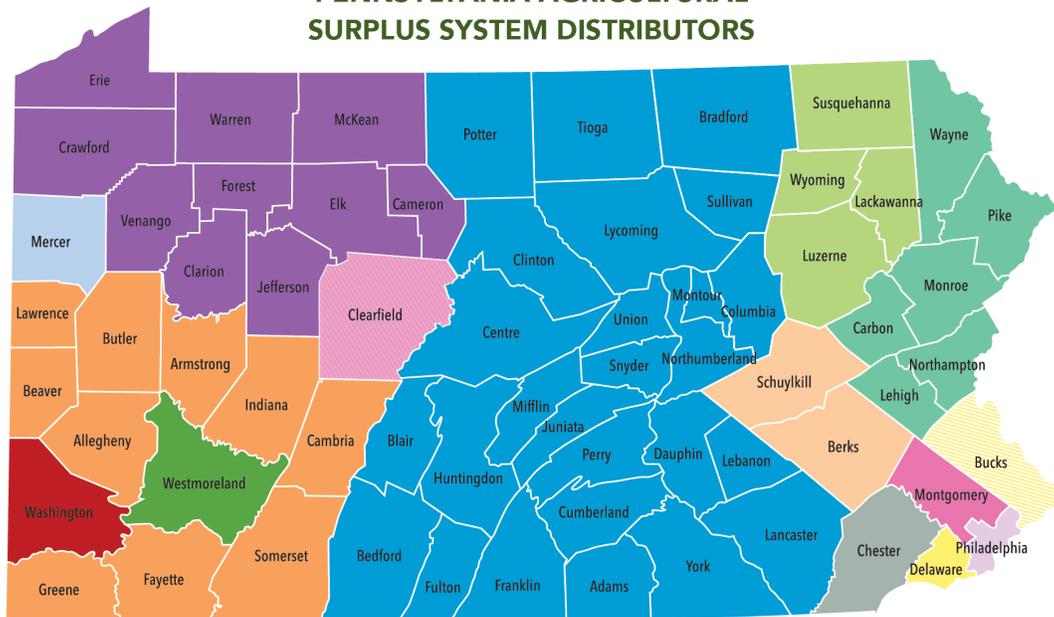

“Working with the food banks and the PASS program has been a really big help for our business. The program allows us to utilize Pennsylvania dairy to support our yogurt and cheese production. The assistance from the PASS program has made our family business a success.”
